This year, Lisboa is the stage for the religious encounter of millions of Catholics with the Pope. The World Youth Day, that is happening in Portugal for the first time, lasts for one week and its aim is to celebrate Catholicism through activities with and for the young. Besides mass, there will be a vigil, a catechistic moment and various events with the Holy Father. There will also be a festival dedicated to the pilgrims. It will include a number of cultural, religious and sporting events, where the participants will be sharing the Christian experience. The prepared musical events are spread over nine stages that will host 100 bands from the four corners of the world. Music is joined by several exhibitions in various venues around the city, with themes related to ecology and to the lives of saints and other personalities that marked the history of the Church. The event will also have shows featuring theatre, classical and contemporary dance, street dance, documentaries about the lives of those who followed Jesus, feature films and other films about relevant personalities of the Church as well as sporting events that don't forget inclusive sports.

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital. Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Operafest

From 18th August; at 9 pm; Jardim do Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga; Rua das Janelas Verdes; (buses: 713, 714, 727, 728, 732, 760; trams: 15, 18, 25). Tickets: from 35 euros.

More information at: operafestlisboa.com

'Between heaven and hell' is the motto for the fourth edition of the festival that celebrates the opera and brings it closer to the general public. This year, Operafest will present two great classics, that are also two of the most performed operas of all time: 'Carmen', by Bizet, and 'The Magic Flute, by Mozart. Besides these shows, the festival will include 'Suor Angelica' by Puccini and 'Rigor Mortis or The House of Rings' by Francisco Lima da Silva. Maratona Ópera XXI, the contemporary opera contest, will present emerging singers for today's opera. The cycle Cine-opera, that crosses cinema and opera, evokes the birth centenary of Maria Callas. Another feature standing out is Máquina Lírica 'Lyric Machine', which brings singing lessons for an experience of vocal self-discovery. The festival ends with a divine and infernal operatic rave, all between heaven and hell.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY

PATRIMÓNIO DA
HUMANIDADE

HERITAGE OF

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amalia Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.

Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa's song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Os Gigantes da Montanha

Until 19th August; from Monday to Saturday; at 9:30 pm; Ruínas e Museu Arqueológico do Carmo; Largo do Carmo (metro: Baixa-Chiado). Tickets: 16 euros. More information at: www.teatrodobairro.org

On summer nights, the theatre takes the stage in the ruins of the Convento do Carmo with the work 'The Mountain Giants' by Sicilian playwright Luigi Pirandello. Between shadows and light, enchantment and cruelty, the story takes place at the foot of a mountain, a place between two worlds, between life and death, where the poet Cotrone, the Magician, and his group of outcasts meet Ilse, the Countess, and her troupe of failed actors. In this meeting, Cotrone shows Ilse and her tired and disillusioned troupe the chaotic and vital joy of the theatre; the need for love, passion, mystery, as well as the grotesque and ironic dimension of life.

Magical Garden Sintra

Aladdin

Until 10th September; from Wednesday to Sunday; at 9 pm; 10 pm; 10:30 pm; Jardim Novo do Palácio Nacional de Queluz; Largo Palácio de Queluz (train: Sintra line; station: Queluz | buses: 1513, 1717). More information at: portugalagenda.com/event/magical-garden-aladdin

Jardim do Palácio de Queluz will be filled with lights and fireworks to welcome the fantastic world of Aladdin, who is bringing along princess Jasmine and the genie of the lamp. The heroes of this tale, as well as the remaining characters, land in Sintra with a series of multimedia installations with visual and sound environments. The audience dives into the story through holograms that bring life to the main characters, which voices are interpreted by Igor Lima, as Aladdin, Andreia Brasil, as Jasmine, and Quimbé, in the role of the Genie of the Lamp. The visitors also have the opportunity to go through a light tunnel, that suggests the illusion of a journey on the flying carpet, and to ask the Genie of the Lamp for wishes, through an augmented reality installation. Here it is also possible to see an impressive water fan which is more than 10 meters wide.

Welcome, Amália

Until 27th August; every day; from 10 am to 8 pm; Teatro Tivoli BBVA; Av. da Liberdade, 182 (metro: Avenida).

'Bem-Vinda Sejas, Amália' is the exhibition that reveals, in different sections, the various sides and the singularity of Amália Rodrigues as a woman and an artist. The section 'Amália in Private' presents her in everyday situations, away from the stages, with pictures and manuscripts of her poems. 'Amália in the Dressing Room' focuses on the preparation process before walking on stage, showing some pictures of the objects she took to her performances. 'Amália on Stage' and 'Amália Global' are the sections that show the artist on international stages, through 14 pictures and clippings from international press articles, and where we find four emblematic dresses from tours and from her theatre experience. In the section 'Amália Herself', the audiovisual support and the archive emphasize the singer's genius.

Eternal Forest: Forest Time

Until 27th August; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 7 pm; Estufa Fria; Parque Eduardo VI; Alameda Edgar Cardoso (metro: Parque | buses: 1704, 1716, 1723, 1724, 1725, 1726, 1728, 1729,1730,1733,3704, 3709,3715).

Evgenia Emets created the multidisciplinary artistic project Eternal Forest in 2018. By creating artistic works and experiences in the forest, this experience has the aim of communicating ideas about ecology and biodiversity, connecting people with nature and the forest ecosystem, through art and creativity. Walks, performances, audio guides, reflection sessions or ateliers are some of the experiences one can have in contact with nature in this project. The aim is to raise awareness of the protection of nature, bringing the message to different audiences, from the general public to a more specialized circle, such as scientists, biologists, landscape architects, plastic artists or others.

Plastic: Remaking Our World

Until 28th August; from Wednesday to Monday; from noon to 6 pm; MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia; Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 7 euros. More information at: maat.pt

In 'Plástico: Reconstruir o Nosso Mundo' the visitors will find three sections about the origin, the evolution and the possible future of this material. The exhibition does not intend to be anti-plastic, but throughout the sections it reveals the human relationship with these objects and casings, from the way they are made, to how they are used and discarded. The exhibition begins with a videographic installation about the geological condition that makes it possible to manufacture plastic. The second section goes through the history of plastic, from its natural origin to the experimentation with synthetic materials and the third takes stock of the present efforts to rethink plastic, develop alternatives, reduce its production and consumption, as well as encourage its reuse.

The exhibition 'Jorge Barradas no Jardim da Europa' represents an artistic journey through about 70 works of the Portuguese modernist. Organized in four sections, this showing presents a series of paintings in different formats and techniques, which transport the visitors to the bohemian life in the Lisbon of the 1920s and 1930s, between cafés and theatres of the capital. This is the biggest exhibition ever made about the artist, gathering works from his 60-year-long career from Museu Nacional de Arte Contemporânea, Instituto de História da Arte of FCSH/NOVA and Fundação Millennium bcp.

Jorge Marçal da Silva (1878-1929) was a surgeon and amateur photographer. He took his first picture on 12th August 1906, a family portrait on a Sunday afternoon, in the garden of his house in Lisboa. This exhibition gathers about four thousand of this author's pictures on a gelatine and silver support on glass, highlighting his photographic production in terms of stereoscopy. It reveals the 'photographic trends' of the time, among family and friends, intangible heritage, constructions and nature, strolls and travels. Today, these pictures can be seen through historical and modern devices and it is also possible to observe prints of the time, record books of his photographs and other personal objects.

Over 26 years, Luís Caetano Pereira de Carvalho built the centre piece of the exhibition 'Cidade-Miniatura', which the museum team affectionately calls 'the fireman's model'. The meticulous work made in polychrome wood is 2,21 meters long and 0,89 meters wide, in a 1:1000 scale. This model represents Lisboa in the first decades of the 20th century. It represents all the carefully studied buildings which were created with the characteristics and colours of the time, revealing the evolution of the city and the changes time has brought about since then.

A Lisboa of Faith and History

Lisboa is rich in history and culture and its religious heritage is a living testimony of centuries of devotion and faith. Among the many churches spread throughout the winding streets, some stand out as true marks of religiousness. Considering the oldest and most popular ones, it is possible to walk through Lisboa following a road map with many examples of rich decoration and architecture that delight the visitors, the curious and the devotees.

In a stroll crossing Rua Cor de Rosa, we can find Igreja de São Paulo, which was rebuilt in the 18th century, after the earthquake of 1755, as a replacement for the one that had stood in the same place since the 15th century. Its main façade is totally covered with stonework and the interior is decorated in a rococo style, with a painted wood ceiling.

In Avenidas Novas, we find the church of São Sebastião da Pedreira. This monument, which was built in the 17th century, is composed of a single nave with baroque decoration from the 17th and 18th centuries, where the works in white and gilded woodcarving and the tile heritage allusive to Saint Sebastian stand out.

In Alvalade, a church built as a tribute to São João de Brito, a Jesuit saint from the 17th century, was inaugurated in the 20th century. In its interior, we can find walls lined with coloured wainscoting and several pedestals with ceramic figures. This church houses part of the collection from the demolished Igreja de Nossa Senhora da Conceição Nova, such as three altarpieces, the figure that gives the church its name and a crucifix.

A visit to Igreja de Nossa Senhora de Fátima, very close to Gulbenkian and its gardens, is a must. The building has a modern and luminous architecture. In its interior the highlight goes to the stained glasses and the mosaics by the great painter and artist Almada Negreiros, the mural paintings by Lino António and Henrique Freitas, as well as the sculptures by Leopoldo de Almeida, Anjos Teixeira and Francisco Franco, the latter being the author of the apostles' statues in the main façade.

One of the most relevant examples of mannerist architecture in Portugal is represented by Igreja de Nossa Senhora da Luz, located in the square with the same name, in the neighbourhood of Carnide. This monument, which was built in 1575 by order of Princess D. Maria, daughter of King D. Manuel I, fascinates the visitors with several details, such as the plain tomb with the Princess' remains, the mannerist altarpiece in gilded woodcarving with paintings by Francisco Venegas and Diogo Teixeira and the renaissance bas reliefs of the high altar, representing allegorical figures.

Dating back to the 17th century, the church of Madre de Deus, which construction was ordered in 1550, reveals interior details of woodcarving and tile that invite any curious person to go in and discover some of the best examples of the baroque style in Portugal. The monument houses the Museu Nacional do Azulejo, an unmissable visit for those who want to learn about the importance of Portuguese tile art.

Another place to engrave in one's memory is Igreja da Memória, also known as Igreja de Nossa Senhora do Livramento e de São José. Located relatively close to the Torre de Belém, it was built as a tribute to King D. José I. Its architecture follows the pombaline standards in the interior and a baroque architectural style.

These are only some of the many churches, art and monuments which Lisboa has to offer and that have lasted through the centuries. Find out for yourself.

The exhibition features rare specimens, various objects of painting, sculpture, photography and porcelain, as well as graphic documents that illustrate their usefulness. This showing recreates the history of the fan, from its origin and manufacturing processes to its functions in different contexts.

In Brute: Touching Relationships

The exhibition 'Em Bruto: Relações Comoventes' is a large installation which adapts itself to the place where it is presented. From Fundación Cerezales Antonino y Cinia de León, in Spain, to CCB, the artistic structure starts from beams, trestles and joists that summon notions of spatial reconstruction and re-configuration. The set created is therefore as much physical as a reflection on architecture, the city, space and modernity. For this reason, the exhibition includes a reading room, where it is possible to consult books mentioned in the installation, and an introductory room to the new piece, composed of a series of elements that the author, Fernanda Fragateiro, has called Materials Lab.

With several works created on purpose to be included in the exhibition, it is possible to discover the artist's style and language, which are created by an inner need and generate forms that move between the topological and the psychic, through the observation of the landscape. Among drawings, sculptures and installations, there are 40 works to enjoy and with which to establish connections between the material and the spiritual.

Vita Prima. Santo António em Portugal is intended to be a journey through the life of the young Fernando de Bulhões. Santo António had two lives with a turning point in joining the Order of Friars Minor. If, on the one hand, in Italy and France, he is better known as a preacher and teacher of this Order, on the other hand, in Portugal, oral tradition has tried to preserve the memory of this figure's childhood and youth. This exhibition is a proposal to understand how the saint and the values associated with him (sacred and profane) became pillars of Lisboa's identity.
